

Welcome to Nucleus

For advisers

We help make retirement more rewarding

Nucleus Financial Platforms is one of the leading investment platform groups in the UK, formed in August 2021 by the merger of James Hay Partnership and Nucleus Financial plc. We also acquired the Curtis Banks Group in September 2023 and Third Financial in July 2024.

We have an overarching commitment to exclusively support advisers. Our scale and profitability are enabling us to invest in products, price and service. This will ensure our platforms meet the needs of advisers, helping them make their clients' retirement more rewarding.

Better together

Nucleus Wrap was developed by a group of advisers who wanted to create a platform that put their clients first, gave them greater control over client outcomes, and provided better value.

Meanwhile, James Hay Partnership was one of the first SIPP providers in the UK, providing the means to administer pensions, savings and investments in a cost and tax efficient way, while challenging industry norms from the outset.

Reassurance for you and your clients:

- 40 years of retirement expertise and a digital-led approach to platforms
- A secure, well-capitalised and consistently profitable platform-only business
- Supportive shareholders, committed to the long-term development of the business
- Scale that enables us to invest in our products, the service we provide and the price your clients pay
- A management team with an unrivalled depth of experience in platforms and the advisory market
- Independence from any wealth manager, insurance provider, fund manager or DFM
- No direct or D2C distractions as we exclusively support UK financial advisers

We're now trusted by more than 235,000 customers to look after £100bn of their pensions and investment savings

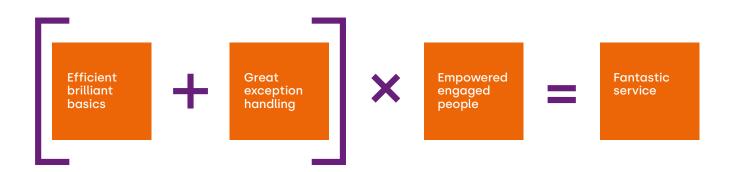

Your priorities

• ...and Consumer Duty

Service

How we support you and your clients.

- Help create capacity
- De-risk your business
- Grow in partnership

It's our business to understand you and your priorities. Our relationship manager works closely with you so we better understand how we can add value.

We design our solutions based on your needs.

We will:

- Take a flexible approach to problem solving
- Seek to continually improve our service
- Ensure our offering meets your needs and expectations.

Partnership

Strategic partnerships with our clients have helped both us and them grow in recent years.

Our aim is to establish and maintain an effective and efficient working partnership with you that maximises business potential for both parties.

We want to support your business by providing not only our core services but also help in other key areas, such as...

Consultancy

Our specialist team of consultants are on hand to gain a deep understanding of your business model, which will inform the structure of your tailored onboarding programme. We'll identify where mutual efficiencies can be gained and implement them through a carefully considered delivery and training programme.

Technical support

Changes to legislation are frequent and increasingly complex. We can help you interpret these and assess the impact on clients. Access to our in-house technical specialists ensures you're equipped with the latest information on pensions, tax and trust legislation. Our Illuminate programme provides access to an extensive range of resources and live events.

Migration tools and support

Our migration tools and dedicated support programme address the complexity of bulk asset migrations and platform transitions, ensuring that the integrity of your advice process and client segmentation is maintained throughout.

Our service commitment

We understand how important our service is to both you and your clients, so we're proactive in doing what we can to help you. For example, you'll receive clear information about how long you can expect key servicing processes to take, so you can manage your clients' expectations.

We regularly seek adviser feedback and shape our service to meet your needs.

We've brought together the benefits of a leading SIPP provider with the technology expertise of a full platform. By combining the strengths of James Hay and Nucleus, we offer advisers a broad suite of products, which cater for a wide range of client type and requirements.

Consumer Duty has set out clear rules, making the alignment of target markets a critical process for all distributors. Here we highlight how our propositions meet different needs:

Proposition

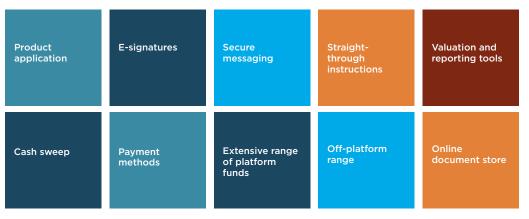

The Modular iPlan brings together pensions, savings and investments in one secure place, with our market-leading SIPP at its core.

James Hay products are primarily designed for investors who:

Commercials

Since bringing together James Hay and Nucleus, we've identified the benefits that being part of a larger platform group can bring. Having scale creates profitability, and profits can be invested in our platforms, in the service we provide and in reducing the price your clients pay.

Our ambition is to consistently provide better value to all our customers, and to have an approach that keeps pricing simple, transparent, and fair.

Consumer Duty

We regard the new Consumer Duty as not only a welcome statement of intent from the FCA, but also an opportunity for the industry to demonstrate that it has consumers' best interests at heart and so help make retirement more rewarding.

To that end we have a major programme of activity in place to ensure we continue to embed the spirit and the letter of the new regulations across our businesses.

Working with you

As the people closest to the end client, we recognise that the expectation in the Duty also puts considerable pressure on you. As a provider that believes in true partnership, we aim to help you fulfil your requirements in the following ways:

- Ensuring we meet our own obligations so you can have confidence in us
- Working with user groups and individual firms to understand your data requirements so we can provide these to you – the right information, when and where you need it
- Publishing analysis and sharing insights from the planning community on our Illuminate hub

Governance

Experience has shown us that regular dialogue with adviser firms and analysis of our performance against your priorities delivers the best results.

We offer a tailored governance framework that ultimately helps reduce risk for your business and optimise your client experience.

The approach we've developed for adviser firms that use our platform extensively includes:

- a steering committee to enable us to align our respective business strategies
- regular meetings between key stakeholders to discuss how we're doing and any specific help you need
- direct consultancy support
- providing valuable management information
- assistance in navigating the impact of tax, pension and trust legislation changes.

Let's talk about tailoring a governance framework for your business.
